

Payanon Sor Thamrangsi vs Petsakon FA Group

Both just take their time getting into the fight in round 1. In round 2, both fighters still look very slow to get going, the crowd get a little restless and jeer them a little and the referee stops the action to tell them to start opening up. Both finally start to go to work in round 3, opening up with fast kicks and punches. Petsakon looks the aggressor and pushes forward throughout, attacking Payanon with some fast, crisp punches. Payanon plays the role of counter fighter well though, coming back at Petsakon with some sharp well-timed kicks and some sharp punches of his own. Petsakon keeps pushing forward in the 4th and opens up with some solid knee strikes now. Payanon keeps on fighting on the back foot and coming back with sharp counterkicks and knees, but Petsakon's aggression and determination see him pull in front by the end of the round. Petsakon increases his lead at the start of the final round. Payanon needs to come forward and open up, but is too hesitant and lets the fight slip away. Petsakon walks away a comfortable winner on points at the bell.
