Straight away the fight turns into a battle of Anthony's solid punching and the strong clinch and knee game of Youssef. Both fighters waste no time in opening up with big shots, Anthony fires in some dangerous looking punches, but Youssef looks on top of the fight with some hard knees, that Anthony struggles to stop. Youssef slows up his attacks a little in round 2. Anthony comes forward looking for more hard punches and some strong lowkicks, but Youssef avoids any real danger and starts to push forward landing with hard long knees, but always looks aware of Anthony's punching power. Anthony fights with a more western style, up on his toes and bouncing in and out, looking for some hard punches and elbows again, but Youssef doesn't look troubled. Youssef looks in control in the 3rd and final round, landing with more hard long knees and kicks. Anthony comes out with a few wild swings, but again doesn't trouble Youssef. Near the end of the round Youssef gets careless and drops his hands as he comes in with a knee, Anthony connects with a heavy overhand punch, that sends Youssef down to the canvas for an 8 count. Youssef beats the count and soaks up Anthony's attacks to the bell. The judges score the fight a draw and an extra round is called for. In the extra round Youssef comes out with a high guard and immediately opens up with a big barrage of hard knees. Anthony opens up with some heavy punches again, but Youssef soaks up the attacks on his gloves and comes back with more strength sapping knees. Anthony fades out of the fight now and Youssef takes the decision at the end.

Fabio Pinca (white) vs Rafi Zouheir (black)
